

Anna Sova Food Paint – Safe Household Paints

Posted on April 6, 2010 by themotherlist.com

As we prep for Earth Day, I had to share one of my favorite companies, Anna Sova. The home of organic and eco-friendly textiles and Anna Sova Food Paint.

Anna Sova Food Paint is something every parent should know about. The paint is produced using up to 94% food ingredients and has zero VOC (Volatile Organic Compounds – trust me, those are bad). They are the perfect solution for painting a nursery, painting anything while pregnant, or for those with asthma or allergies. If I had my way, your entire house would be painted with zero VOC paint, as well as every other house out there.

Think your color choices will be limited? Think again – Anna Sova offers every color you can imagine and can also make custom tints and bases.

Good news: Use promo code April10 and receive 10% off AND free shipping on any paint order!

I am also the proud owner of Anna Sova 900 GSM Organic Cotton Spa Towels – which happen to be on sale right now. I have to tell you, I bought these towels 3+ years ago and have found them to hold up much better than any other towels I have owned. They are ultra plush and . . . organic! If you hurry, they are offering free monogramming through April 10.
